(Updated on Apr 4, 2023)

(A) COVID-19 measures

(I) Entering Hong Kong from an overseas place

Good news for travellers to Hong Kong! From April 1, 2023 onwards, all pre-departure and post-arrival quarantine and testing requirements have been removed. The Government recommends all inbound persons to conduct daily rapid antigen test (RAT) using self-arranged RAT kits during the period between the day of arrival (i.e. Day 0) and Day 5 after arrival at Hong Kong. They may declare test result voluntarily via the electronic Health Declaration Form (<https://www.chp.gov.hk/hdf/>). From March 1, 2023, the mask mandate (outdoor, indoor, public transport) has been lifted, except in medical facilities and residential care homes for the elderly and people with disabilities to protect high-risk groups. (<https://www.info.gov.hk/gia/general/202302/28/P2023022800677.htm>). There are also no vaccination, no quarantine and no isolation requirements. The Vaccine Pass requirement to enter various premises has been lifted from Dec 29, 2022 onwards (<https://www.info.gov.hk/gia/general/202212/28/P2022122800773.htm>)

(II) Entering Mainland China/Macao from Hong Kong

1. Starting from February 6, 2023, normal travel between Hong Kong and the Mainland has fully resumed. There is no daily quota imposed in ALL Boundary Control Points (BCP) between Hong Kong and the Mainland, and there is no need to make an online booking.

2. For travellers from Hong Kong to the Mainland, if they have stayed in any overseas places or Taiwan on the day of departing Hong Kong for the Mainland or during the seven days before that day, they are required to present the following, except those aged three and below. They don't need to undergo quarantine in Mainland/Macao.

- A negative result from a self-paid PCR test at Hong Kong's community testing centres/community testing stations (CTC/CTSs) (can be booked online at <https://www.communitytest.gov.hk>) or private medical institutions (www.coronavirus.gov.hk/pdf/List_of_recognised_laboratories.pdf). The test specimen must be a throat swab, nasopharyngeal swab or combined nasal and throat swab collected by dedicated staff. Free community test will not be accepted for cross-boundary and outbound travel. The test must be taken within 48 hours before the scheduled flight departure time (for those entering the Mainland via airport) or arrival time (for those entering the Mainland via other boundary control points).

(B) Travel documents/visa requirements

IMPORTANT: Please check the number of visa-free days you have, or whether you need to apply for a proper visa, before flying to Hong Kong. For nationals of some countries, even making a transit on the airside of Hong Kong airport requires a visa.

For those intending to go to Mainland China/Macao via Hong Kong, please read Part II under (A) COVID-19 measures.

1. Singapore passport holders entering Hong Kong as a ‘general visitor’ are entitled to a visa-free period not exceeding 90 days.

2. Vietnamese and Laos passport holders have to apply for a “visit/transit” visa from Immigration Department’s website. Please access the following page for online application: (note: please see point (8) for Immigration Department’s contact numbers if you need help)

https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/services/index.html#tab_f_1

3. Indian passport holders are required to apply for and successfully complete pre-arrival registration (PAR) online before they can visit Hong Kong visa-free. Please access the following page for online application: (note: please see point (8) for Immigration Department’s contact numbers if you need help)

https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/services/visas/pre-arrival_registration_for_indian_nationals.html

4. China nationals (ie PRC passport holders) who are in TRANSIT through Hong Kong are entitled to 7-day visa-free days in Hong Kong. Arrival day is counted as Day 0. For example, if you arrive at 0800 hr on May 1, your permitted stay in Hong Kong is up to 2359 hr on May 8. "Transit" generally means travelling from country/territory A into Hong Kong, before leaving for country/territory B (for example, from Singapore to Hong Kong, then Mainland China/Macao; or from Singapore to Hong Kong, then Korea). Please read the part 'Transit' in the following link: <https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/services/visas/overseas-chinese-entry-arrangement.html#c>

Those travelling from one country to Hong Kong and then back to the same country (for example, from Singapore to Hong Kong and then back to Singapore) are NOT regarded as in transit. They need to apply for an entry permit for social and business visits to Hong Kong, from the Chinese Embassy or Consulate-General of their departure country. For the contacts, see Point 5 of the section "Useful websites/contact numbers at a glance".

5. For nationals of other countries, please check "Part 2" of following Immigration Department website for the visa-free period (if any) and the visa requirements. For nationals of some countries, even making transits through Hong Kong airport on the airside still require a visa. Please read 'Remarks' at the bottom of the page about "Part II": <https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/services/visas/visit-transit/visit-visa-entry-permit.html>

6. Visitors should ensure that the activities they engage in Hong Kong fall within those permissible under the particular visa they have been granted. Permissible activities during visa-free days as a general "visitor" are listed in the following link: <https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/services/visas/permissible-activities.html>

If you have to engage in activities outside the range of permissible activities (eg. for work, study, as dependent etc), please apply for a corresponding visa from Immigration Department online: <https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/services/index.html>

For further questions on whether an activity is allowed under a certain type of visa, please liaise with Immigration Department direct (contact see #8), the authority which executes immigration laws and grants visas on a pre-defined set of conditions.

7. If a longer stay in Hong Kong is required, please apply for extension of visa from Immigration Department. Generally speaking, you must depart Hong Kong before the expiry of limit of stay. If there is a special/urgent need to stay longer, you may apply online for extension of stay when your remaining limit of stay is 3 to 14 days, and when you are physically in Hong Kong. Applications will be considered on its own merits. Please read <https://www.immd.gov.hk/eng/online-services/applyextensionstay/visitor.html>
